SELBORNE COLLEGE U15A RUGBY RESULTS 2008

KES won 15-5

We controlled the game through out. The halftime score was 10-0. Their backs only broke our line once, but some first time tackling was lacking. The handling skills of the team in general were great (bearing in mind that we had the majority of the possession).

Our line out work was not good, we lost more than 5 line outs.

Tries: Baneti (2), Punguzwa (1)

Conversions: Van Rooyen (0)

Penalties: 0

Northwood won 58-0

The team was rampant. The opposition was not very strong. The halftime score was 34-0.

We lost a lot of structure and there were plenty of mistakes. The game was called off in the 20th minute of the 2nd half (score exceeded 50).

Tries: Baneti (4), Ngantweni (3), Kriel (1), Yakha (1), Punguzwa (1)

Conversions: Van Rooyen (4)

Penalties: 0

Hudson Cancelled

Hudson pulled out of the fixture due to injury.

Player of the Tournament: Emihle Baneti

Grens won 54-0

The team dominated in all aspects of the game. We did however lose a tight head. We won all our lineout ball and contested well, wining a lot of theirs. We had the majority of the possession, which could have been the reason for the free kicks and penalties been so one sided towards Grens. We gave away far too many penalties, particularly at the ruck for incorrect entry. There was a lot of handling errors and the team needs to remember to offload ‘through the tackle’ and not ‘in the tackle’.

Tries: Koliti (2), Baneti (1), De Wilzen (1), Ngantweni (2), Sabbagh (1), Opperman (1)

Big Hit: Siphatho Qinsile

Dale won 31-10

The team was dominant once again. Defensive lines were lacking. The players did not react quickly enough from the free kicks. We scrummed well, but our timing in competing for the ball at the line out was not great. There was a lot of frustration shown from the ball not being played wide. The forwards over did the pick and drive at times (sometimes it is necessary to cleanout over the ball and not to pick it up). It is important to remember that we need to commit their backs first, before calling for the ball to go out wide. With the new laws of hands being allowed in the ruck, we need to be wary of the ball being stolen out wide, which is often the case when there is a lack of support.

Scoring five tries against Dale in King is a huge feet and the players must not be despondent from the way it was played.

Queens won 31-7

We have become a side that does not start well. The halftime score was 7-7. We looked lethargic in the first half. The backs were running across the field. Our offloading nearly cost us (the Queenians kept on getting in between us). We need to remember that there is no offside line in open play and we must look for the offload before contact or when we are through the tackle or even better to set up the ruck. The 2nd half looked a lot better and we were able to dominate. However, we did lose 2 tightheads and 2 lineouts in the game. Fanta needs a special mention for having a great game; obviously the man of the match went to Emihle for his 5 tries. He has now scored 13 tries in 5 games.

Our defensive lines are something we need to work on, even though we have had only 4 tries scored against us in 5 games (2 from overlaps, 1 from a free kick close to our line and 1 out wide from a pick and go).

Graeme won 57-0

The old saying of you can only play as well as your opposition was reaffirmed from this game. We did not play well, lost structure and tried to speed up the game. It was not a clinical performance and the players have been warned that if they play like this against Grey Bloem that it will a long game.

Grey College lost 10-26

There were three things that we had identified to beat Bloem, namely; scrumming well, winning our lineout ball and getting over the advantage line. It was not a surprise that we lost the game when we only won 20% of our own lineout ball.

Once again we learnt how long it takes to regain possession from a good team. On average a side usually keeps the ball for about 3 minutes until it is turned over. A good side can retain the ball for up to 8 minutes. We turned over a lot of their ball at the ruck, which proved that there was no lack of commitment from our players. Territory and possession stakes were not in our favour. Grey had more than 60% of possession and territory. We all know that you can't win with those statistics.

The forwards did front up and took them on in the scrums. However, the backs did not perform well and still tend to run across the field. They need to be a lot more direct against Cambridge.

There has been only 8 tries scored against the team this season and 4 of them were against Grey. The 8 tries have been as follows: 1 against KES (pick and drive), 2 against Dale (pick and drive, and out wide), 1 against Queens (out wide) and 4 against Grey Bloem (3 out wide and 1 from a missed tackle in the fly half channel).

We have identified key areas that need addressing namely; doing things at pace, improving skill levels, leg strength, and defensive patterns (overlap).

Cambridge won 62-0

The game went well and the team has started to show signs of playing together as a unit. However, there are still some weak areas that need working on. Namely: receiving the kick off, backs running across (not attacking the gain line) and not getting quick ruck ball. Players need to learn to clean over the ball and then to seal. Our game has changed due to the new laws that have been implemented. Before I had as the coach encouraged fewer rucks (offloading), but now ruck ball is the best ball to attack with (provided that we win the contact).

The team was rampant. Port Rex hardly ever posed a threat.

St Andrews won 48-0

I was very happy with our plays off the lineout. The team did well in general, but again our cleaning out was not good enough. Some forwards were standing at flyhalf in the backline. We need to do more rucking work before our next game. Our ball security in contact was shocking and some players are still passing in contact and not through contact. Runners need to come from depth and must be running onto the ball.

Defensively the team was not coming up on the blind side this is important, even if the ball doesn't go that way. More time also needs to be spent on our defensive lines especially communicating who is the pillar and post man.

Hudson won 15-8

The team did well. We always knew that it was going to be a hard game at Hudson. We applied a lot of pressure on the opposition by often not competing at the lineout. This tactic worked for us. We had the better of them in the scrums. Our execution was lacking, which has become a problem. We lost a few lineouts. The players did well to remain focused through out the game which was played in good spirit. There were two players out who would normally have been in the starting line up: Loose forward, Kriel (injury) and Fullback, Perks (Influenza), which was not ideal.

We outscored them by 3 tries to 1. The score line was not a true reflection on how well we did. Hudson scored from a mistake we made (offload in the tackle that was intercepted).

The new combination of Opperman and Lundersted as the halfbacks looked promising. Ngantweni at Fullback was dangerous.

Queens won 46-0

This game would arguably go down as one of the better performances of the season. It was a great team effort. The game was played with control and the teams rucking work was top class. We showed signs of a great team and the combinations worked brilliantly.

Man of the match:

Dale won 19-8

This match was not a great performance. The loss of Lundersted and the experiment of Perks at Flyhalf did not work. Perks attacked the line well, but De Wilzen kept running away from him. This created a huge gap between the two and it did not work. A flyhalf should run more of an angel towards his centre and mix it up a bit i.e. take the ball from different positions. We were dominant, but the final passes did not go to hand. Our lineout work was not great and we lost 2 of the first 3 lineouts which are crucial early on in a game.

The team was down 0-8 early on in the game. They need to be commended for not losing their cool and keeping focused.

We played badly, but we still won. The players were not happy with the performance. We were at least 40 points better than Dale.

Tries: Qinisile (1), Yakha (1), Grotjohn (1)

Grey High Drew 7-7

The team won the collisions and rucked well. However, we lost most of our lineouts due to throwing. We did steal a lot of their ball. We dominated in the scrums and this is how our try was created. The penalty count was totally against us. Some penalties came from not releasing at the breakdown. Players need to remember to recoil.

The Grey PE side was not a bad side; so we did well coming back from trailing 0-7 early in the second half to score in the 26th minute to level. The spirit displayed by the team after that try showed that we were never going to lose. It would have been interesting to have seen what would have happened if we had had another 10 minutes of rugby?
