POST DATED CHEQUES (PDC'S)

Note to teacher:
It is important that learners understand the different between receiving a post-dated and cheque and paying a post dated cheque. When a post dated cheque is received, it cannot be deposited until the due date. This causes a problem as the cheque can be lost or mislaid if it is not put in a safe place and that you remember to deposit it on the date of the cheque.

When a business issues a post dated cheque, they regard it as if the amount has already been taken out of the bank and therefore it is recorded in the Cash Payments Journal immediately. The date written on the cheque is not relevant.
